The Admirable Heart of Mary

by St. John Eudes

St. John Eudes reveals to his disciples how Our Lady's heart was the first-fruit of Her Divine Son's Passion, given to all of Mary's children, that it might be honored, cherished, invoked and, ultimately, with that of her Son, reproduced in them. This is the essence of St. John Eudes' spirituality which spilled over into the foundation of many religious congregations, literary works and, of course, the practice of heroic virtue. This doctrine is foundation for the triumph of the Immaculate Heart of Mary and of Her Divine Son and is very pertinent for our time.

The Mass: A Study of the Roman Liturgy

by Father Adrian Fortescue

"Essentially the Missal of Pius V is the Gregorian Sacramentary; that again is formed from the Gelasian book, which depends on the Leonine collection. We find the prayers of our Canon in the treatise de Sacramentis and allusions to it in the IVth century. So our Mass goes back, without essential change, to the age when it was first developed out of the oldest liturgy of all. It is still redolent of that liturgy, of the days when Caesar ruled the world and thought he could stamp out the faith of Christ, when our fathers met together before dawn and sang a hymn to Christ as to a God. The final result of our inquiry is that, in spite of unsolved problems, in spite of later changes, there is not in Christendom another rite so venerable as ours."

2007 (first published 1912) reprint of 1930 ed. 429 pages
hardback with dust jacket $28.00 #55662

Liturgical Law in the Midst of the Pandemic

When the bishops in the State of Minnesota decided to open their churches without accepting the state's restrictions on public worship, concerned Catholics rejoiced at this defense of the rights of the Church against government interference. The action of the Minnesota bishops followed the example of former papal nuncio to the United States, Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganò, who had called attention to similar interference by the Italian government with the Church's authority, in violation of the Lateran Treaty.

While these recent developments in Church-State relations remind us of the proper role of the Church in society, there has been a parallel development within the Church herself, concerning the Church's laws regarding the reception of Holy Communion during the coronavirus pandemic.

Among theologians and canonists, the question has recently been raised whether bishops, in the emergency brought about by the coronavirus, can suspend the right of the faithful to receive Communion on the tongue, on the assumption that this traditional manner of receiving Communion is more likely to spread the disease. This medical assumption was challenged by Prof. Filippo Maria Boscia, President of the Association of Catholic Doctors in Italy, and by a group of Austrian Catholic physicians. The manner in which the assumption is made overlooks fundamental principles regarding the Church's liturgical legislation and its application. For the question is not whether a right can be temporarily suspended for the common good, but whether a law can be suspended on the basis of certain medical assumptions.

The distinction between a law and a right is interpreted in different ways by moral philosophers and theologians, but the common teaching is that a right is derived from a law, whether it be divine law or human law, ecclesiastical or civil. The law of the Church is that the universal norm for receiving Holy Communion is on the tongue, not in the hand. There is a right to receive Communion on the tongue derived from the universal laws of the Church, but there is no right to receive Communion in the hand. The laws of the Church regarding this were systematically analyzed and documented by Bishop Juan Rodolfo Laise in his book Holy Communion (see ad on page 5 of this catalog).

After the current legislation was established, what subsequently occurred was that the laws promulgated by the Holy See were applied by many Episcopal Conferences in ways that were not consistent with the laws themselves. When this matter came up in Argentina in the 1990s, Bishop Laise consulted with the Holy See to verify the results of his own investigation. And he was assured by the Roman congregations that he was perfectly justified – not only on his own initiative but also with the consensus of the priests of his diocese – to continue the exclusive practice of Communion on the tongue in the diocese, in spite of a decision of the Argentine Episcopal Conference to introduce the practice of Communion in the hand.

In his book Bishop Laise took these conclusions to their ultimate consequences. Not only was his own decision in conformity with the universal laws of the Church, but also the decisions of Episcopal Conferences to introduce a widespread practice of Communion in the hand were in violation of those laws. Bishop Laise's courage in defending the Church's legislation prompted the warm and respectful praise for him from Bishop Athanasius Schneider, in the preface he wrote for the Italian edition, now reproduced in translation in the American edition.

An ecclesiastical law can be temporarily suspended in a case of emergency. The assumption has been made that such is the case with the reception of Communion during the coronavirus pandemic, but at times this is done without an examination of the medical evidence. The universal Church established the practice of Communion on the tongue as the norm, and did this for a number of reasons. Since Communion in the hand was only introduced by ignoring these reasons, subsequent epidemics even before the coronavirus have provided occasions for trying to justify the violation of the Church's universal laws, in the context of a contrary custom that was not in conformity with those laws, but which an effort is being made to legitimize by using the current pandemic.

The recent action of the Minnesota bishops provides an example of the proper exercise of episcopal authority in another related context. Archbishop Viganò pointed out that the national Episcopal Conferences have no authority to impose on individual bishops a policy of closing churches. The decision of the Minnesota bishops illustrates the fact that it is individual bishops, either by themselves or in groups, who interpret and apply the Church's laws, and not national Episcopal Conferences when these go beyond the limits of their juridical authority. Episcopal Conferences did not have authority to make Communion in the hand a law, nor does that practice as a contrary custom legitimize the temporary suppression of Communion on the tongue, especially when medical assumptions for preventing disease through Communion in the hand are contradicted by the medical facts.

The current pandemic is clearly a crisis that Divine Providence has allowed in order to show how the Church is divinely governed. In his encyclical Mystici Corporis, Pope Pius XII explained that the Church is guided on one hand by its hierarchical authority, and on the other hand by special graces that add to this juridical structure. What the faithful are witnessing today is that it is the Faith, and fidelity to traditional doctrine and discipline, that distinguish the voices within the hierarchy itself – those voices that deviate from the Church's Tradition, and other voices among the bishops who defend it, preserving the Church's traditional liturgical laws, and defending the rights of the Church within society at large. Hearing these latter voices within the hierarchy, the faithful who strive to adhere to Tradition find shepherds whom they know they can confidently follow and obey.

Excellency Most Rev. Juan Rodolfo Laise, Bishop Emeritus of San Luis (Argentina), has for several years raised his voice in defense of the Eucharistic Lord, showing with convincing argumentation the inconsistency of the modern practice of Communion in the hand from a historical, liturgical and pastoral perspective...I consider it an honor and joy to be able to present this book of the most worthy Bishop Juan Rodolfo Laise, "deus episcoporum Argentinae". I hope this prophetic voice... may enkindle readers with the same faith and the same love and contribute to the universal restoration of the more sacred and reverent manner of receiving the Lord's Body."

The Truth of Papal Claims

A Reply to "The Validity of Papal Claims" of F. Nutcombe Oxenham

by Cardinal Rafael Merry del Val

"Does Dr. Oxenham imagine that even today a Bishop might not expostulate with a Pope, who, in his judgment, might be acting in a way which was liable to mislead those under his own charge...? The hypothesis is quite conceivable, and in no way destroys or diminishes the supremacy of the Pope. And yet an individual Bishop does not occupy the exceptional position of S. Paul, a fellow-Apostle of the Prince of the Apostles. Even a humble nun, S. Catherine of Siena, expostulated with the reigning Pontiff, in her day, while fully acknowledging all his great prerogatives" [p. 74].

Essay on Catholicism, Liberalism & Socialism:

Considered in Their Fundamental Principles

By Juan Donoso Cortés

2014 - xx & 236 pages, hardback $16.00 #63282

From his 1849 address to the Spanish Parliament:

"The cause of your errors. Gentlemen, lies in your ignorance of the direction which civilization and the world are taking. You believe that civilization and the world are advancing, when civilization and the world are regressing. The world is taking great strides towards the constitution of the most gigantic despotism which men have ever known.

"There are only two possible forms of control: one internal and the other external: religious control and political control. They are of such a nature that when the religious barometer rises, the barometer of control falls and likewise, when the religious barometer falls, the political barometer, that is political control and tyranny, rises."

BLESSED BE GOD

THIS IMMENSELY POPULAR CATHOLIC PRAYER BOOK went through several editions between 1925 to 1961. We have reprinted it five times, the last two of which have been as close as possible to its original specifications. This edition of our

This ALL-TIME CLASSIC prayer book comes with prayers and devotions CHERISHED BY GENERATIONS OF CATHOLICS! Along with the usual array of morning and evening prayers, litanies, novenas, et cetera, also included are more rare devotions for Holy Days, Special Feasts, Holy Week, Ember and Week Days, Seasons and Months of the Year, and more.

The Liber Brevior

Originally published in 1954, the Liber Brevior (or shorter book) fills a need for those who don't need all the features of the large and more common Liber Usualis. Like the Liber Usualis, the Liber Brevior has all the ordinary parts and propers of the Sunday Masses, all the major feasts and most of the regular weekday feasts, but without the parts of the Liber Usualis pertaining to the Divine Office. This shorter book is ideal for small choirs, students and others interested only in singing Masses. With English rubrics. In this edition are added a supplement of six Masses not in the original printing, and a supplement to the Feast of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. At the end of the book are found simpler versions of the Graduals, Versicles of the Alleluia and Tracts, set to simplified Gregorian notation for those choirs not skilled enough to sing the regular melodies. Includes 2 ribbons, reinforced durable Latex end sheets, red edges, Bible paper, sewn hard back; pages: xxxiv, 640, [126], 22. $34.00 + P&H # 89031

Holy Week Gregorian Chant Book

Since the Liber Brevior was published before the 1956 Holy Week changes became official, we have printed a companion volume, the Liber Hebdomadae Sanctae, or the Holy Week Gregorian Chant Book, which has all the ceremonies of Holy Week, including Tenebrae: 1 ribbon, white edges, sewn hard back. 244 pages $16.00 + P&H # 55737

Pope Leo XIII and the Prayer to St. Michael

by Kevin J. Symonds

From the foreword of Bishop Athanasius Schneider:

"In his book Pope Leo XIII and the Prayer to St. Michael Mr. Kevin Symonds presents a very careful and competent historical research about the origin and the circumstances of the publication of the prayer to St. Michael....Furthermore he gives also a rich spiritual reflection on the Divine truth about the Holy Angels, the fallen angels and the reality and necessity of the spiritual battle.

Mr. Symonds' book is indeed very relevant for our times. May this book become widespread and raise to many Catholics—especially the clergy—a new awareness of the necessity to use the spiritual means which God and His Church have given us in order to fight against the infiltration and attacks of the evil spirits."

Plinio Corrêa de Oliveira: Prophet of the Reign of Mary

by Roberto de Mattei

From the Preface by

Bishop Athanasius Schneider:

"One cannot understand the public and social action of Professor Plinio unless one starts from his spiritual foundation. The consecration to Mary, lived in a total coherence, leads Mary to reign in the soul of her devotees.

The reign of Mary in souls is therefore the beginning of the realization of the Kingdom of Christ in society. Plinio Corrêa de Oliveira has foretold an epoch of spiritual and visible radiance of the Church, which will correspond to the triumph of the Immaculate Heart of Mary announced by Our Lady at Fatima in 1917, and it is for this triumph that he fought until his last breath.

"Those who reap the spiritual and cultural heritage of Plinio Corrêa de Oliveira, and Prof. De Mattei is part of this, participate in the same mission, that of leading souls to the light of Jesus and of Mary in the darkness of the contemporary world.

"By encouraging the reading and the diffusion of this book, I wish to make mine also the program which it transmits to us...."

School of Darkness

by Bella V. Dodd

"There was not a hint that despite the propaganda of hate unleashed against Germany and Italy, communist representatives were meeting behind the scenes to do business with Italian and German fascists to whom they sold matériel and oil. There was not a hint that the Soviet brass was meeting with German brass to redraw the map of Europe. There was no betrayal of these facts until one day they met openly to sign a contract for a new map of Europe - a treaty made by Molotov and Von Ribbentrop" (page 87).
